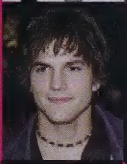
Celebrity Dating Game

Ashlie Mast wants to see Vin Diesel waiting outside her door with flowers.

Zac Lantz wants to spend a romantic evening with Christina Aguilera.

Meghan Esterline does not want to lose Matthew McConaughey in ten days.

Darcy Pearson wants to hear Orlando Bloom's accent in person.



Lindsay Baker wants a date with Ashton Kutcher.

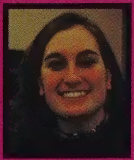
Rachel Miller will date Luke Perry in 8 seconds.

Jake Ford thinks Stacy's mom has got it going on.

Jill Polkow wants Brandon Boyd to sing her a love song.

James Harr wants an American wedding with Allison Hannigan.

Jacquelyn Bercaw fantasizes about a date with Johnny Depp.



Karly VanOrt wants to trade spaces with Ty Pennington's girlfriend.

Andy Mapes thinks Paris Hilton has everything he wants, looks and brains.

Who would you choose?

Politics

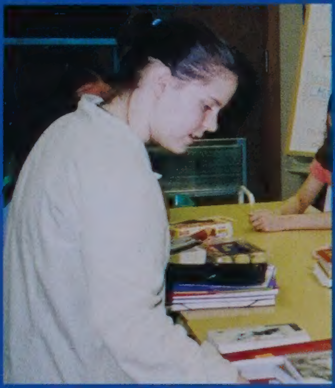
"The symbol of your country cannot just be a flag but the right to burn that flag in protest."
President Alan

AMERICAN PRESIDENT

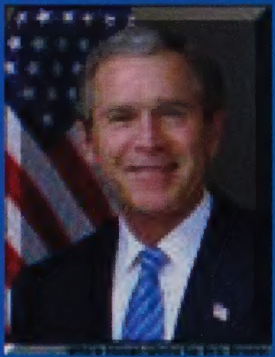
Which candidate are you going to vote for? Why?

"I would have to go with Dennis Kucinich. He seems to have the most consistent stances on various issues which I agree with; war in Iraq, education, free trade, and civil rights."

Dennis Kucinich



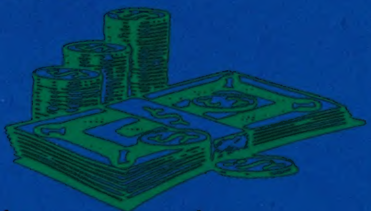
Darcy Davidson



George W. Bush
President and former Governor of Texas.

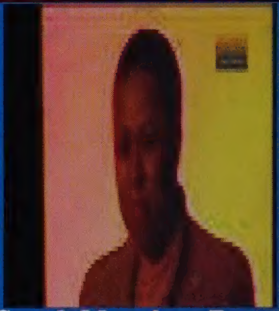
"I am voting for President George W. Bush because the two leading Democrats, Kerry and Dean, are both full of themselves. John Kerry is all an act; he doesn't know a thing about running the economy and as far as Howard Dean goes, well all you have to do is watch the Tonight Show to see how pathetic he really is. So in conclusion Bush isn't completely liable for the economy, but he did start a war that in the long run benefits both Iraq and the U.S.

Stephen Amundson



And the winner is ____________

Richard Gephardt
Representative for Missouri.



Carol Moseley Braun

Joe Lieberman

Patriotism

Peace isn't merely the absence of conflict, but the presence of justice. President James Marshall

I am currently undecided. I want to vote for a candidate based on his platform and ideas for the nation. Unfornately, the American media has a way of not reporting on the issues. They write about the latest polls and surveys and who won the last primary, but not about what the candidates stand for. As a busy teenager, I do not have time to research each candidate and his program. And like most Americans, I rely on the media for information. So, until the media properly covers the presidential race, I do not feel I can make an informed choice for President of the United States. -Rashanda Pease

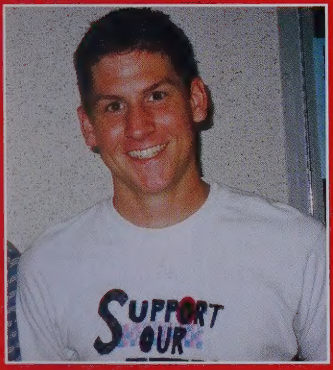
Get Together

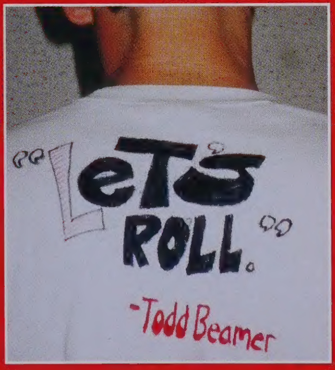
Karly Van Ort and Kristin Seiss must shop together at American Eagle. They did not know that they are wearing the American Flag skirts on the same day.

Al Sharpton National Youth Movement

If I had my choice I would vote for Reverend Al Sharpton because he believes in finally making black people equal to whites. I also believe it is time for the United States to get over its widespread race-phobia and elect a black president with a lot of fantastic ideas for the country. Ryan Anningson

Whereas, Kirby Cool and Hilary Clouse have a fond love of New York, Valerie Hardesty really shows her support with her red, white, and blue attire.





Andy Mapes shows his support for his troops during Red, White and Blue Day on September 11th. Andy also shows his support for Todd Beamer and his famous quote "Let's Roll." Todd says this on Flight 93 while it was being hijacked.

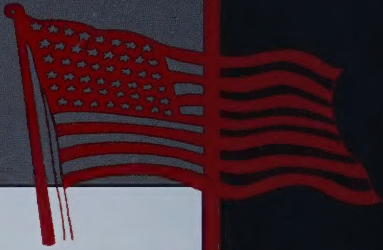
The Pentagon

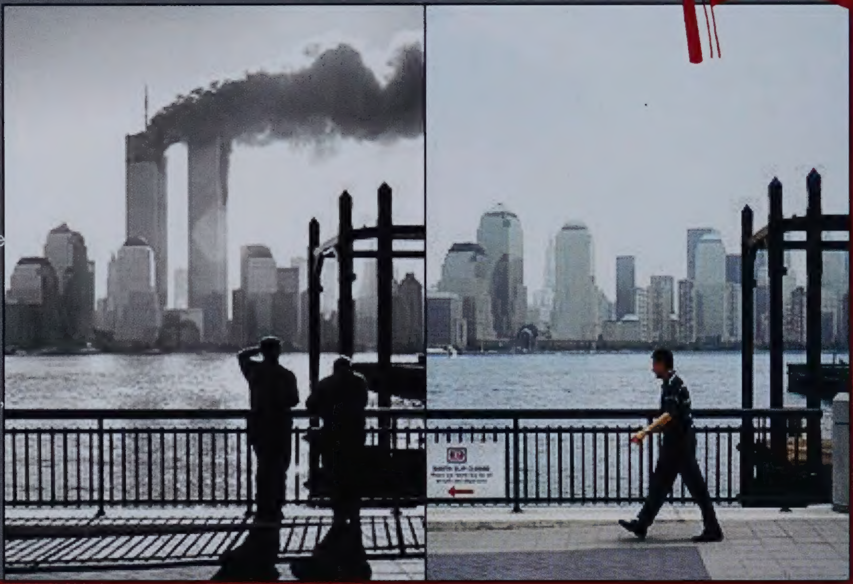
September 11 2001

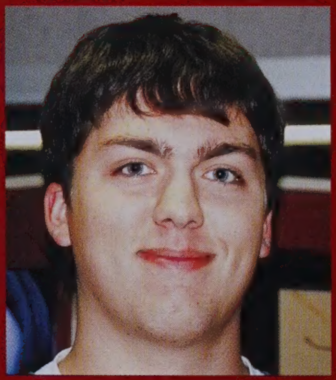
Flight 93



On the sunny morning of September 11, 2001, 19 terrorists, working in teams of 4 or 5, hijacked four commercial jetliners and turned them toward targets chosen for destruction. Two of the planes, loaded with fuel and passengers, were flown at full speed into the twin towers of the World Trade Center in the financial district of New York City at 8:46 am and 9:02 am. The buildings burst into flame and then collapsed. A third terrorist crew smashed their plane into the Pentagon, headquarters of the U.S. military in Arlington, Virginia, at 9:37 am. The hijackers of the fourth airliner apparently intended to hit another target in the Washington, D.C., area, but passengers on the plane realized what was happening and fought back. This airplane crashed in a field in rural Pennsylvania at 10:10 am.

The Twin Towers





Shawn Meier

"I was taking a break from ISTEP testing when I heard about it. I thought it had to be a hoax because the U.S. was invincible. I never thought the U.S., the military, or the government would allow terrorists to do something like that. I guess I was was wrong, and I think that has put a lot of things in perspective for me."

DEKALB
SWIMMING

Hillary Clouse

"I remember I was taking the GQE Test, and when we got our break, everyone was talking about how terrorists flew planes into the Twin Towers. I really didn't know what to think at first, but a few days later I realized that we were attacked, and we were going to strike back and get revenge. In all, I think this incident made us realize the precious freedoms we have, and we should not take them for granted."

Blackout 2003

Manhattan Skyline

Thursday August 14, the day power outages darkened dozens of cities across the northeast, including New York, Toronto, and Detroit. The blackouts began around 4 pm, with reports tracing the cause to a localized outage in the Niagara Mohawk Power Grid, which supplies electricity to much of the Northeast United States.The Canadians insist that the problem started somewhere on the American side of the border, either from a lightning strike or a fire somewhere in New York or Pennsylvania.

Sarah Shopp

"I remember the blackouts in New York to Detroit the most. It affected a lot of production and work all around the U.S. My dad's factories were all shut down, and they lost valuable time. Some people thought it was another attack on our country because nobody took the blame for it. Still today, we don't know who is responsible for the blackouts. Many companies were affected by this, big and small. And the real reason is because we rely too much on faster, better technology that consumes way too much power that our plants can't keep up with anymore."

"Frank says that he's talking to Johnny on the radio... in the future!" - Satch DeLeon

Maria Kelton

"I would have to say the sniper attacks affected me more than 9/11 because I have family living in the D.C. area, and watching the attacks get closer and closer to them was very stressful. I wondered for a month whether my family would be next."

Sniper Attacks

John Allen Muhammad and Lee Boyd Malvo remain in custody for a murder spree that paralyzed Washington suburbs for three weeks during a string of violent crimes. The crimes,stretching from Washington State to the Southeastern U.S., caused ten deaths and four injuries.

Lee Boyd Malvo

John Allen Muhammad

Using fingerprints taken from a magazine about guns found the Alabama crime scene, authorities traced Malvo to a house in Tacoma, Washington, which was already under surveillance in connection with the sniper shootings, after a neighbor called police to report what he called "repeated gunshots" from the vicinity of the house. A search of their car yielded a Bushmaster .223 rifle, a tripod, and a viewfinder. Ballistic tests confirm this is the weapon used in at least 11 of the 14 shootings.

Senior Art Work Frida

"You've been my comrade, my fellow artist, and my best friend."

Karly VanOrt and Anne Iddins love to show off their jewelry.

Zac Lantz and Jackie Bercaw never use this much concentration.

Shelley Grogg looks for inspiration while Ashlee Grate and Kenton Miller get help.

Amber Cox prefers 3D art while Brittany Fike and Jens Allos work on 2D next door.

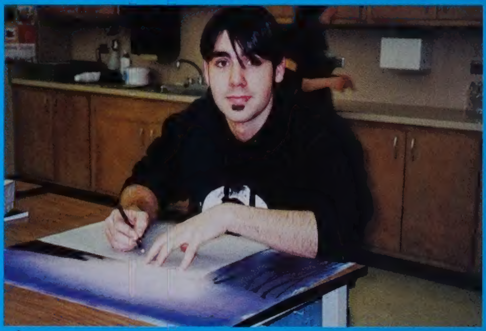
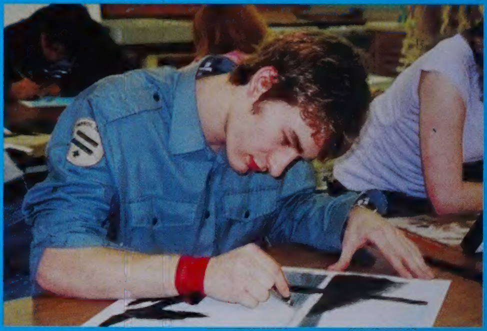
Emily Michael and Chelsea Wilhelm find a creative outlet.

Jill Polkow listens to music to keep inspiration flowing.



Don Hankey sheilds his project, not ready for unveiling!



Scott Clark works to perfect his landscape.

Jessica Fuller knows jewelry can be tedious; just keep focused!

The AP Government class motto: To have a great day, BE YOUR BEST!

Andy Mapes wrote a song just for AP; it goes a little something like this:" Genre is a specific type, A homily creates religious type, Invective who gives a darn, give Tubergen lip she'll kick your assonance. Isn't it ironic? What'd you say?, So ironic. You didn't mean what you said. It's an apostrophe without emotion, It's hyperbole for an understatement, It's an euphemism when it's already good, But if the President said it's ethos...Ad hominem pretty Latin, Syntax no riverboat casino, Epitaph Epithet Explication Darn there's a lot of words that start with E. Isn't it ironic? Say what you mean! I'll whip out metonomy.It's a litote: don't know what that means. It's a diatribe-the ... suck! A paradox: two animals that quack. The Talented Mr. Ripley

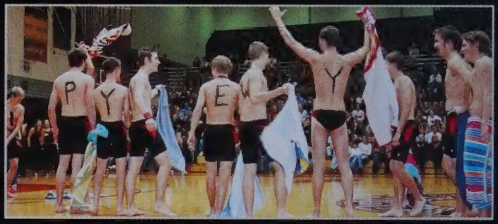
Santa may have had too many cookies this season; luckily HOE knew what to do, much like their ER counterparts.

Although Jonathan Hines may be starting off as an older, less attractive woman, he hopes someday to be as beautiful as Boy George.

Pat Surfus, Jeff Shelburne, and Jeff Hoff rock out on some Christmas tunes; talk about Jingle Bell Rock! Metallica approves; hopfully one day they will be as sucessful as the band they replicate.

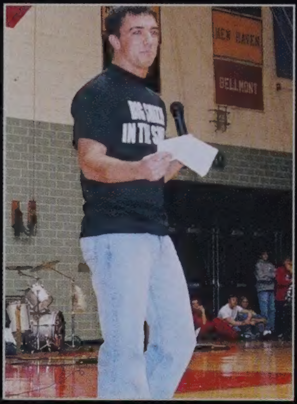
Everyone knows the boys swim team finds themselves "very sexy," but they have a ways to go before they reach Chippendales' status.



RUNNERS-UP
AAAA BASKETBALL
2003

The talented Mr. Andy Mapes proves he has a multitude of abilities. Throughout the course of a day, Andy transforms himself from DHS student to a Wolfgang Puck worthy Chef for his AP English class. He then finishes the day as Adam Sandler, singing about our newest Lunch Lady. (see above)

Nick Blomeke looks very natural with that microphone; he even has that announcer voice, but we all know he just immitates famous sports commentator Howard Cosell.



Callie Webb proves she knows her stuff. We wonder if this last dance has anything to do with Julia Stiles.

Mr. Ross, Tyler Moore, Will Reynolds, and Mitch Grogg may think that plastic rimmed glasses and sweater vests complete the package,but we believe that only Weezer can pull off that look.

- Kilee Heil

I enjoy drinking clear, diet pop when I go to the movies.
-Hannah Ruse

The seats at the Rave are so comfortable, like my lazyboy at my house.
-Amber Oda

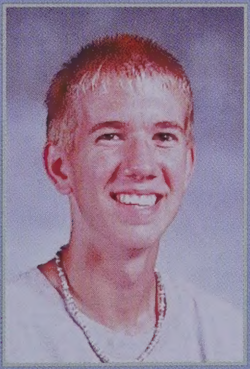
I go to the movies three times a month.
-Robby Pease

I like to go to the Rave because it has the best sound, best seats, and the best popcorn.
-Sarah Way

I love Sour Patch Kids because they are sour and I hate chocolate, so sweet and sour candy always works for me!
-Scarlett Foltz

Enjoy Sprite

The Rave has every new release in the theatre. It's very clean and they have Cookie Dough Bites.
-Andrew Reger



I like to go to the Auburn/Garrett drive-in because it's easier to socialize with friends and I can bring my own snacks.

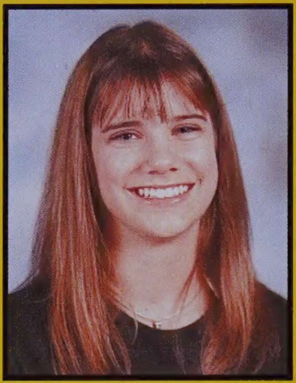
Super Powers

WHAT WOULD YOU DO?

-Bruce Almighty-



The power to turn back time, so I could relive the past and undo my mistakes.
-Sheila Bonkoski-

If I could have a superpower, I would want to be able to read people's minds. I think it would be interesting to hear what people think about you or anything for that matter.
-Nicki Meier-

I would like to change my physical appearance at will. I could chose to be old or young, black or white, or (even cooler) turn into any animal I wanted. Then I could change back into myself when necessary, like when people ask for ID, or I visit my grandma and stuff.-
KTK-(Katie Knudson)

If I had a superpower , I would want to be able to rewind time. I think it would be great. I would use it in cases like if something happens to one of my family members or friends, I could just rewind time and warn them or if I was in a situation where after it was over I thought of something else I should have done or said.
-Lindsay Baker-

"I would want to be able to read people's minds because then I would be a genius. I'd use my superpowers to reveal the true criminal in court cases such as OJ Simpson.

-Vanessa Buchanan-

If I had a superpower, I would want to be able to become invisible by the snap of a finger. That way I could do whatever I want. If I didn't want to get caught doing something, I could just be invisible.
-Amanda Meier-

If I could have a superpower, I think I would fly because instead of walking to every class, I could fly, and when I'm running late to school, I could fly over all the cars. Who wouldn't want to be able to fly?
-Jonie Ball-

If I could have a superpower, it would have to be being able to be a ladies' man. I would use it to get whatever woman I wanted.

Cheryl "Rhode Island": "That's a tough one. I would have to say April 25th. Because it's not too hot, not too cold, all you need is a light jacket."

CHOIR

HELP I'M STUCK!

In my freshmen year, we were at a hotel for a showchoir competition at Edgewood. We were getting ready to leave and I was taking my luggage down on the elevator, but when I tried to step out, the doors closed on me and the people inside had to push on me to get me out! -anonymous

CAUGHT!

One night at a friend's party, four of my friends and I were tp'ing someone's house. The four other guys ganged up on me, tied me up, and left me in the guy's yard. My friends knocked on the door and ran. The guy did not call the cops, but he made me clean up all of the toilet paper. It took me around two and a half hours to clean everything.

Nick Garman

WATCH OUT FOR THAT SIGN!

It was a bright summer day in 8th grade. My fellow students and I pleaded to Mr. Disque, our math teacher, to take a walk outside before we went to lunch. After agreeing, the class took a walk around the school. While walking along the grassline talking to friends, I turned to look where I was going and walked straight into a parking sign. It left a hefty gash on my forehead. And from that day forward when I go somewhere, I always look where I am going and stay clear of signs.

MALE OR FEMALE?

When I went to get my learner's permit, they checked the male box, but I am a girl! I did not realize it until three days later. The bureau would not change it without written proof! I almost had to get a physical! Luckily, I had a picture of my hospital basinette which had a pink card on it to prove I was a girl. -anonymous

APPLICATION

Melissa Barber receives 2nd place in Physical Sciences at the state competition and advances to the International Fair in Portland, Oregon.

"I used Isotactic polypropylene, a simple plastic, to coat cotton fabric squares. I melted the polypropylene into solution at 130 degrees Celsius and then poured the liquid onto the squares. Using a vacuum oven, I evaporated off extra solvent and dried the polypropylene coating. These fabric squares were then placed in distilled water for 5 minutes. After taking them out, I measured the mass of water that was absorbed and determined the water uptake factor, or how much was soaked up in comparison to the fabric square's size. Comparing the Water Uptake Factors of coated samples to the Water Uptake Factors of uncoated samples, I was able to determine that the polypropylene did create an effective waterproof, superhydrophobic coating."

"Science fair is an experience that requires one to devot countless hours to their project, but the rewards are well worth the work. By working at a university, I had the opportunity to interact with several professors and again use higher level research institutions, which is excellent preparation for college research. There is a rewarding feeling to see all the research and experimentation come together in a final project. Advancing to International is an honor and a truly unique experience."

Jennifer Nagel places third at the local science fair, advancing to regionals at Tri-State winning in the Senior Biochemistry division. Jennifer also receives special awards from Scientific American and the Navy/Marines. At state, she receives an award from the American Statistical Society and participates at the International Science Fair in Portland, Oregon.

Data Table

Rachel Buchanan takes first at the local science fair and advances at regionals to state, receiving 2nd place in the Life Sciences Senior Division and 1st for the Microbiology award.

"My experiment showed that garbage disposals aerolize bacteria throughout the kitchen to a minimum of 14 feet, landing on countertops where prepared food is ready to eat. The bacteria aerosolized were Campylobacter (#1 cause of food posioning), E. Coli, and many other bacteria that are found in toilet bowls, all of which are life threatening. The number of colonies of bacteria on the agar plates suggests that the aerosolization of bacteria exceeds the infective dose of the population who have weak immune systems. My experiment suggests one of the missing answers for why people come down with food borne illness."

Tackling the Stats

"I tried to find out how accurate the BCS rankings, AP polls, and Coaches polls were at ranking the NCAA football teams. To do this I made my own ranking systems: One based on specific team statistics and the other based on schedule ranking. I ranked the NCAA football teams based on my ranking and then compared them to the BCS, AP, and Coaches polls. From that I found out statistically that the BCS ranking is one of the most accurate rankings, but I concluded the best football teams cannot be based only on statistics since teams with better stats get beat by teams with poorer stats."

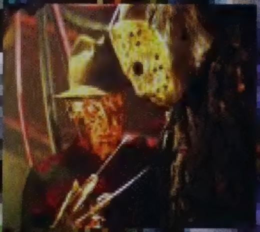
Freddy Now



Freddy Krueger:
"My children... from the very beginning, it was the children who gave me my power. The Springwood Slasher, that's what they called me. My reign of terror was legendary. Dozens of children would fall by my blades. Then the parents of Springwood came for me, taking justice into their own hands. When I was alive, I may have been a little naughty, but after they killed me, I became something much, much worse. The stuff nightmares are made of. The children still feared me, and that fear gave me the power to invade their dreams, and that's when the fun REALLY began."

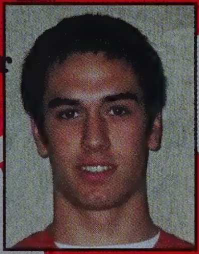
VARSITY

Emotional, Senior David Nan destroys the DeKalb banner like he swats the Hornets.

Trevor Chalfant gains a step on the Angola defense.

Position Wars

Outside Linebacker

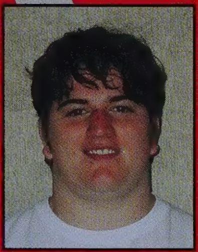


Will Nan

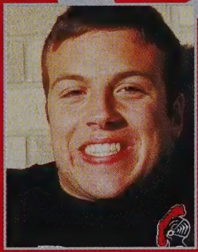
Stewart Rufner

Juniors Will Nan and Stewart Rufner work to crack the starting defense, playing weakside linebacker. Both show aggression, but Will has year long experience at outside backer. Stewart used to play safety, giving Will more of an advantage.

Tackles



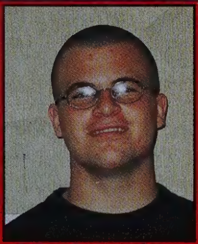
Matt Lacy



Ryan Bohler

Senior Matt Lacy fights with junior Ryan Bohler for a chance to start as strong side tackle. Matt Lacy has the experience for the job, but Matt also has the job of defensive tackle. That makes Ryan Bohler the starting tackle.

Middle Linebacker



Mackenzie Bolinger

Ben Deleon

Senior Mackenzie Bolinger competes with junior Ben Deleon to play middle linebacker for the Baron's defense. They both played varsity for a year. Coach Callahan has to decide on this one.

Acknowledge

Trevor Chalfant and his Offensive Line breaks rushing record with 320 rushing yards in one game. They also scores five touchdowns in one game breaking the old record. Trevor also blocks two punts in one game breaking the old record.

Wade Buchs and Tyler Osborn fly to the finish line during the Carroll/ Homestead Invitational.

With only eight boys on the roster, depth was not one of our strong points. The boys did not use that as an excuse for not giving 100% at every meet. They continued to improve all season and seemed to put it all together with runner up finishes at the conference and sectional meet and just missed advancing to the semi-state by one place. The team will only lose one runner for next season, so they look to improve on those finishes with some hard work and maybe a few more runners to help with the scoring. -Coach Perez

Leader of the pack, Mark Stahl does not let the tall corn distract him.

Keeley Collett warms up before her floor exercise by practicing handstands.

Senior Keeley Collett's favorite events are the beam and the vault. She loves gynmastics because it is, of course, fun, and it is amazing to others. As co-captain, she has to set good examples, lead stretches, and stop conflicts among the team. Keeley plans on teaching lessons to younger gymnasts at Classic City Gymnastics in the future.

Jessica Meyer's favorite event is the beam. Her standing back tuck on the beam is her major accomplishment this year after a year of struggling to land it. "It took lots of concentration, but it paid off."

Sheila Bonkoski loves the bars and will definitely be doing it again next year! Sheila loves gymnastics because it is challenging ,and there are always different things to try.

Sara Baird's favorite event is the floor, and her favorite/best meet is against Snider at Snider. She advises incoming gymnasts to stick with it, be committed, and do not get discouraged. The key secrets to the teams success are the chants and cheers by the fans and the team.

Leslee Getts enjoys the vault the most. She believes that time and dedication are the secrets to her success along with positive encouragement from teammates.

ACC and Concert Choir
First on their ISSMA performances

Mark Meyers, Shelley Johnson, and Kent Johnson relax after a long day of competing.

Mardah Michelow applies the final touches on the bus to an oh-so-early competition.

Greg Butler feels the need to water a trophy while waiting for evening awards.

As Greg Butler looks on and Kyle Holden gets a taste of glitter spray, Laurel Steffen takes time to smile with her buddies.

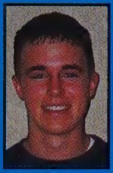
Classi Connectio receive Grand Champio awards 4 times this year.

DeKalb Showchoirs

Why do these guys enjoy being in the showchoir back-up band?

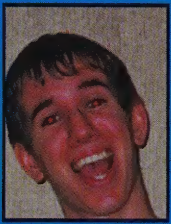


Josh Metcalf plays in the back-up band for the ladies and, of course, to help Bobby Clements.

Nick Johnson strums the bass because his aunt makes him (Mrs. Johnson).

Nate Post enjoys hitting those drums.

David Andrews loves watching the dry ice blow up backstage.



Andrew Reger remembers when the band was kicked out of the back-up band room because Mario fell off a cloud and they yelled too loud.

Greg Butler remembers when the dry-ice bomb went off at Southmont. "I thought someone got shot."

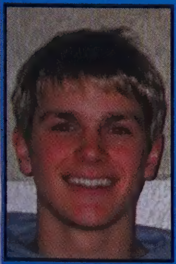
Dustin Hardesty is in back-up band merely because, "Bobby is a good kid."

Eric Tracey's excuse for being in back-up band is simply, "Blame Bobby."

Justin Alford remembers when Bobby goes crazy because Justin "accidently" threw his music.

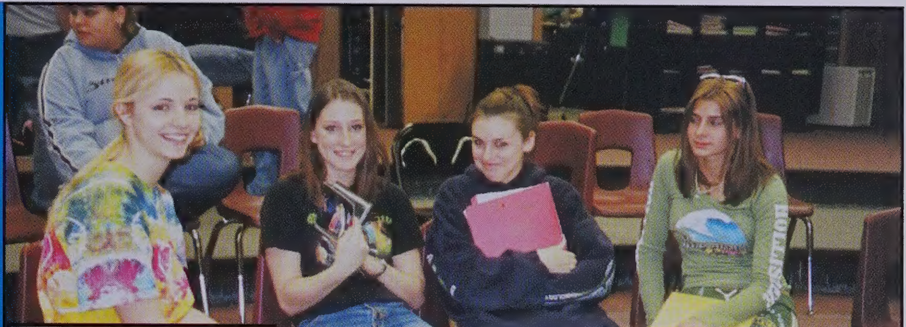
Luke Haworth enjoys being in back-up band because he likes spending time with the ladies.

Lincoln Slentz's back-up band experiences mean late nights and crazy weekends.



Kyle Holden plays his trumpet in back-up band as it keeps him off the streets.

Bobby Clements, who likes back-up, says, "I'm the only freshman."



Tony Mussillo, Kandice Fackler, Sara Miller and Chrystal Stonebraker sit and chat while waiting for the bell to ring.

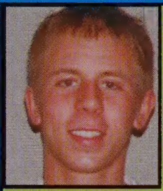
Paul Harris and Tyler Evans wait patiently for other classmates to get their music.

Will Reynolds, Erica Paulus, Megan Johnson, and Chase Rollins relax after singing difficult ISSMA music.

Susie Parker and Kayla Musser share the joys of being in choir class together.

As April Ousley grabs her music, she enjoys her friends' comments.

Katie Price, Desiree Carnahan, Amanda Arguello, and Rachel Everidge enjoy Mrs. Johnson's crazy 50's costume ideas.



Sean Hake

Most Tedious Work: "Our class had to learn the choreography for 3 songs a week before our performance."

Katie Knudson

What is ACC? "It's a mixed choir;we sing more complex music than regular choirs but don't dance like showchoirs."

Yaw Sarkodie

Why are you in ACC? "I love music and have played the piano for 6 years. Plus, I think Mrs. Johnson is an awesome teacher."

Leah Bennett Eric Westrick

What do you do in ACC? "It's a choir class; we sing."

Most Memorable Moment: "When we pointed out that one person wasn't singing at all in ACC, she got mad and dropped out. She gives us dirty looks now."

PYGMALION

November 8-9 2003

Henry Higgins, a professor of languages, acts snobby and arrogant. A visiting colleague, Colonel Pickering, makes him a bet that he cannot take an unrefined, dirty, Cockney flower girl, Eliza Doolittle, and turn her into a lady. Unfortunately for Higgins, she must convince high society that she belongs in their crowd.

Erik Hall	Alfred Doolittle
Jessica Butler	Mrs. Higgins
Mallory Dean	Parlor maid
Alex Klopfenstein	Nepommuck
Gabe Miller	1st Footman
Scooter Benner	2nd Footman
Amber Cox	Hostess
Greg Butler	Host
Chis Stackhouse	Constable
Laurel Steffen	Mrs. Eynsford-Hill
Ashley High	Miss Clara Eynsford-Hill
Dan Burch	Bystander
Dan Fleming	Freddy Eynsford-Hill
Laura Allison	Eliza Doolittle
Scott Clark	Colonel Pickering
Stephen Amundson	Henry Higgins
Chris Stackhouse	Sarcastic bystander
Austin Freels	Taxi Man
Brittany Fike	Mrs. Pearce

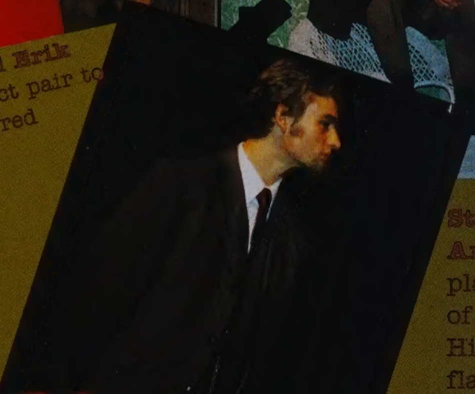
Laura Allison and Erik Hall make a perfect pair to play Eliza and Alfred Doolittle.



Stephen Amundson plays the part of Henry Higgins flawlessly by capturing the character's lack of etiquette.

The cast and crew of the Pygmalion enjoy getting ready for their stunning performance.

Laurel Steffen, Ashley High, and Laura Allison deliver dynamic performances as Mrs. Eynsford-Hill, Miss Clara Eynsford-Hill, and Eliza Doolittle.

Mrs. Higgins, played by Jessica Butler, gives her son, Henry Higgins, some motherly advice.

Scott Clark plays a distinguished military man named Colonel Pickering.

A Life in Revue

"My ancestors didn't come over in the Mayflower—they met the boat."
-Clem Rogers

Erik Hall, Lincoln Slentz, Grant Seltenrite, and Isiah Dobson celebrate the union of Will and Betty.

It must be the end of Act One! Will Rogers and Betty Blake finally tie the knot- officiated by Clem Rogers.

Heather Braun, Kassie Mettert, Laura Garmen, Molly Weiler, Kristen Getts, Erica Wilson, Sheena Gomez, Kayla Roark, and Nichole Laher all enjoy their Chorus line number as the Zigfield Follies Girls.

Will. Betty, James, Will Jr., Mary, and Freddie tell their tale duing the "Big Time" number.

Freshman Jessica Williams makes her debut as a "Cow-Girl."

Steve Amundson gives some heavenly advice as Clem Rogers to his son Will.

Kim Hargarten, Micaria Schippers, Katie Knudson, Ariel Pease, Jenna Rosenburry, and Mallory Dean play dual roles as the six single sisters for Betty Blake

THE "PRIZE" > pizza party

Yes, a break from the riggors of academic English is a good thing according to Jenna Morr, Matt Knox, Kyle Zuber, and Crystal McCann.

"Here's to us. We did "good," says Mr. Thomas and Jared Malcolm.

Emily Macy enjoys her pizza piping hot..

"Helping others is important," says Colleen Daley and Nikki Shipe.

A happy class.!

FANTASTIC FRESHMEN

Wade Buchs nears the finish line during the cross country meet hosted by DeKalb.

Freshman Jimmy Kimball finds himself prone to giggle while studying the fine world of art.

Kaitlin Chalfant and Nakia Cochran enjoy watching the attractive boys soccer team.

Chase Rollins gets warmed up before the varsity soccer game by dribbling the ball down the field.

Brittany Buchs, Jessy Armstrong, and Nichole Laher beam after winning their soccer game.

Rachel Buchanan, Kylie Casey, Britney Birk, and Rachel Taylor try to stay warm during a cold, rainy football game.

Meeting your needs with a hometown touch.

Nate Hoeffel, Mona Lane, Jeff Warner, Herschel Erwin, Alex Pinnington

There are a lot of things to consider when choosing a funeral home. Who will be there for you? Who will answer your questions, even the tough ones like price?

At McComb, Dilgard & Cline we've been meeting the needs of the Auburn community for more than 22 years. And one thing that has never changed is our commitment to providing you with the best possible services at prices that make sense.

The best doesn't have to cost you more. In fact, it may cost you less. Call us for a free cost estimate.
